ANOTHER WORLD

"Take a peek into another world through the work of their hands"

Presenting to you Another World, an exhibition from 5 emerging Indonesian artists.

Our topic for January takes focus on illustration forms, with different interpretations on what illustration itself really is.

Take a look at their wonderful imagination created through their works.

With love,

Chiarobytes

DEBRA ANGGRAENI

Debra Anggraeni is a kindergarten teacher based in Melbourne, Australia who enjoys painting and drawing in her free time. Encouraged by her friends and family, this year she finally took some courage and created 'deboodle' – a place where she shares her illustrations.

In her childhood she used to paint with oil pastels, pens, and colour pencils. It was not until 2018 when she discovered her love for watercolours and in the middle of 2020, she started with digital illustrations on the Ipad too. Collecting memories through simple and fun doodling is the underlying theme throughout her work.

FLORA GINNA HANDOKO

Flora Ginna Handoko (alias: Sour Gum) was born in Jakarta, Indonesia, in the year 2000. Her works usually include depictions of daily life with a vibrant, fantasy twist and irony, puns, and cute stuff. For as long as she could remember, her life had always been filled with colorful art and cartoons. At age 10, her pastime was drawing through mountains of copier paper and telling cheesy, wild stories through them.

Her works are inspired by the style of retro Japanese pop culture and graphics. Besides illustration, she also has a background in fine arts and 3D graphics during her study in Los Angeles, California. Sometimes cynical, but more often funny, her illustration style especially likes to include visual puns and witty hidden commentary about society.

KURNIAWAN WIJAYA

Born in Jakarta, Kurniawan is an interior designer, landscape designer, and self-taught artist. Kurniawan is currently working as a part-time illustrator. His works are inspired by a memory that tells stories through illustration by giving different meanings.

In this exhibition, Kurniawan hopes to share great memories to all of the visitors. Kurniawan hopes those who take a look at his works can reminisce their own unforgettable memories in their life, while giving the enthusiasm for us to keep on going forward.

The journey to the beautiful place will not be easy, so many ups and downs will be happening. However, along the journey you will eventually meet the right people who meant to cross our paths for a reason, either they change our life or we change theirs with you. The important thing is to enjoy the journey and always be grateful for every experience we have so we can grow and evolve, so when we arrived at the spot that we want, we are ready for everything.

NADIA GUNAWAN

Nadia Gunawan is an illustrator currently based in Surabaya, Indonesia. Her work ranges from illustrations for magazine op-ed articles and blog posts to various personal commissions.

Having graduated in 2018 from Purdue University with a B.S. in Psychology, she takes an interest in portraying Psychological ideas and human behavior in her work. In addition to that, ordinary experiences and life contemplations are among the main things that inspire her. Although her illustrations are predominantly digital, she also loves experimenting with traditional mediums such as watercolors and oil paints.

SAADYA GABRIELA

Born in Jakarta, Indonesia, in 2000. She's a Visual Communication Design student at Tarumanagara University. Based on her artworks, she was inspired by her love for kids and childhood memories that reflect the season of joy, warmth and love.

She wanted to show not just the art but also the stories that lies within for people to visualize their childhood memories that could make them remember the good old days in those cherished moments they've had. Many of her artworks are using a vibrant colour and using a technique that merges traditional illustration with digital art
